Writing an Abstract

- Like a movie trailer!
- Highlights the main points of your talk
- Usually 200-300 words
- Make it interesting - draw people's attention
- Sets the scope of your talk - use it as a plan

What to Address

- Aims: What are you trying to achieve? What questions are you trying to answer?
- Materials & Method: What evidence are you studying? Are you using any specific methods?
- Results: What did you find out? OR what do you expect to find?
- Significance: Why are your findings important? Do they contradict or support existing scholarship on the topic?

Creating a Conference Paper

- An informal and spoken version of an essay
- Consider your audience: don't assume everyone is an expert
- Structure
  - Introduction
  - Aims / Background info
  - Materials and methods
  - Findings / Results
  - Significance

Presenting a Conference Paper - Aids and Visuals

- Colourful images, icons and graphs help to make presentations more interesting and visually engaging
- Keep text minimal - include key points, dot points, bolding important parts
- Roughly 1 slide per 2 minutes
e.g. 20 minute presentation= 10 slides
- Font size:
  - 26pt+ for headings
  - 18-24pt for text
  - 16-18pt for captions

Presenting a Conference Paper - Tips for Presenting

- Practice and time yourself - how fast do you speak?
- Figure out what works for you - full transcript or dot points?
- Interact with your slides, don't read off the page
- They don't have your transcript or notes, no one will notice if you miss a word

CONFERENCE POSTERS

WHAT?

- Concise visual format to communicate research
- Poster + Short Presentation = 2-5 mins
- Combination of text, figures and images
- Usually A0 in size but check size requirements at the conference

WHY?

- Develop skills in communication
- Demonstrate analysis of information and understanding of topic
- Creatively display findings of research

What is in a Poster?

- Title
- Your Name(s) and Affiliation
- Abstract or Summary
- Aims and Objectives
- Methodology
- Significance and Innovation
- Outcomes (Results)
- Discussions and Conclusions
- References / Acknowledgements

More tips for Posters

Layout and Content

- Usually portrait format
- Consider reading path in layout
- Use colour to enhance reading experience
- Choose a light background colour
- Striking images and colourful charts/diagrams to stimulate discussion

Fonts and Sections

- Be deliberate and consistent with font size and styles. Use an accessibility font style
- Is it legible from ~9m away?
  - Title: min. 80pt
  - Main headings: min. 36pt
  - Body text: 20pt
  - Captions: 18pt

Fielding Question Time

- Usually 5-10 minutes
- Think of some common questions beforehand and prepare answers. Like an interview
- How to structure answers, Try PEEL
  - Provide a Point
  - Explain why you think this
  - Provide Evidence
  - Link back to your presentation or further research
- Don't have an answer?
  - “That’s a really good question/point - I hadn’t considered that but I will definitely look into that”
  - “I’m not a 100% sure but these are my thoughts on the matter at the moment”

Tips for Conferences: Networking!

Think of an informal 'pitch':

- Who are you?
- What are you studying?
- Research or workplace interest?
- What are you learning/what are you looking forward to learning?

Tips

- Be respectful in both private messaging and speaking
- Get to know other people
- External conference events: morning/afternoon teas, drinks nights, workshops, lectures, round table discussions
